Reflections-----

-----After Dark!

from Leslie Simmonds

George Milhet's omelette mousselines at L'Gran Omelette are heavenly concoctions. They're made of banana, chocolate, or strawberries, along with toasted almonds or walnuts, cream cheese, eggs, cream sugar, Italian meringue---and accompanied by a bowl of fresh creme chantilly. Address is 9050 South Dixie Highway.

★★★★★★

Fourteen Round Table patrons will fly to San Francisco in October after seven lucky numbers have been pulled out of seven boxes at seven Round Tables in September. It's a gourmet trip which includes round trip air fare, hotel accommodations and dinners at four of San Francisco's finest restaurants. Five days in all, seven big trips-for-two. Drawings will be in each restaurant---Hallandale, Ft. Lauderdale, Pompano Beach, North Miami, Coral Gables, Lauderdale, Lakes and West Palm Beach Sheraton.

★★★★★★

One to the North and one to the South---either place will satisfy that craving for good Italian food. At 2655 Biscayne Blvd., Raffaello's offers a traditional gourmet and fine wine list. Service is in keeping with the "old mansion" surroundings, with everything adding up to a pleasant eating experience. Capriccio, at 12313 South Dixie Highway, offers a Northern Italian cuisine that features Saltimbocca, Zuppa de Pesce, Tortellini alla Panna, for instance.

★★★★★★

One way to become popular is to name your spot The Lobster Pot; another is to serve great Maine lobsters. At 6484 Indian Creek Dr., in the Garden of Allah motel, Miami Beach, lobster dinners range from $7.95 to $13.95. There's a Clam Bake going for $12.95 and steak offerings range from $5.95 to $7.95. The Lobster Pot has a take-out service, too.

★★★★★★

Steve Hill, owner of the new and smart Fifth Avenue restaurant in South Miami, reports that business is exceptionally good and far beyond his expectations. Hill, an excellent idea man, has a series of special nights planned far into the summer. Following the first, "Carnival in Rio," will be jazz and symphony music parties.

★★★★★★

★★★★★★

If you can work up a really tremendous appetite between 5 and 7 P.M. any day in the week you can make a pre-dinner feast from the Seafood Salad Bar at the Rustic Inn Crabhouse. For a $.95 service charge and with a $.95 minimum entree you can gorge on clams, oysters, crabs, oysters, crabs, chopped liver, herring in wine, ratatouille and an array of salad makings. This haven for big eaters is on the 79th St. Causeway and the Bay.

★★★★★★

"I wish they'd make up their minds," said a woman at Costa Del Sol Golf and Racquet Club. "One day the Soup du Jour is Onion, next it's Vichysoisse."

★★★★★★

Interesting gimmick at Miami, Miami, new plush disco on N.W. 36th St. and Le Jeune. One of the club owners walks out on the floor, taps a dancer and says "Here's a letter for a Calvin Klein outfit." Just like that. Has nothing to do with "winning" anything. There's a dozen different gifts like this every week. No Mercedes-Benz, though.

★★★★★★

That was Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback Terry Bradshaw eying the huge smorgasbord tables at Prince Hamlet. He was in town to play a bit part in "Smokey and the Bandit II," Burt Reynolds' new movie which is scheduled for release this summer. Also starred are Jackie Gleason and Sally Field.

★★★★★★

It was nothing for Jean Stapleton but Edith Bunker never had it so good. Recently dined at Le Dome, a swank spot in Ft. Lauderdale, where maitre d' Nunzio prepared, with many flourishes, a shrimp and crabmeat dish, salad and peach melba. Archie wasn't around. Probably defending Nixon somewhere.

★★★★★★

Don Sebastian is going to take a shot at the Guinness Book of World Records. The popular comedian figures with his 16-straight-years in one place(the Aztec Motel, Miami Beach) he may have a chance for an entry---at least in the comedy category.

★★★★★★

Picciolo's is in its 43rd year serving notable Italian and American specialties at 2nd St. and Collins Ave., Miami Beach. Luncheon, dinner and banquet facilities offered here, and a children's menu is available, also.

★★★★★★
